SPITZER CAMPAIGN AD "TRICKY TONY" CONDEMNS RACKAUCKAS FOR MAILERGATE SCANDAL

Ad Reveals Unseen Footage of Rackauckas Campaigning At A Taxpayer-funded Event.

Orange County – February 14 – The Todd Spitzer for District Attorney campaign revealed an advertisement entitled, “Tricky Tony”, which condemns failed District Attorney Tony Rackauckas for yet another scandal –this time for sending over 16,000 taxpayer-funded mailers that showcased his name for an alleged campaign stop in the height of election season. Todd Spitzer will take a tough, no-nonsense approach to end public corruption as DA.

The DA was also caught red-handed in footage exposing Rackauckas for illegally campaigning at the taxpayer-funded event: Giving his business card to a prospect campaign worker and directing government staff to coordinate with his campaign.

Spitzer said, "Rackauckas is campaigning on the taxpayers' dime because he has lost all support for his platform as DA. He must refund the money immediately and do what's right for the people of Orange County."

He continued, "As your DA, I'll fearlessly crack down on government corruption and abuse. I refuse to stand by as Tony Rackauckas destroys the District Attorney's office with scandals while the public's safety suffers. As District Attorney I pledge to always uphold the rule of law, put people's safety first and work tirelessly to make certain justice is served for victims and their families."

Supervisor Todd Spitzer has dedicated his life to keeping families safe and was inspired to dedicate his career to public service as an Orange County Supervisor and former California State Assembly Member. A champion for public safety, Supervisor Spitzer is recognized as an expert on security issues, whose reputation as an advocate for victims' rights is respected nationally.

Supervisor Spitzer Chaired the ground-breaking campaign for Proposition 9, Marsy's Law, the nation's most comprehensive Victims' Bill of Rights, and served as State-wide Co-Chair for Proposition 83, the nation's toughest sex offender punishment and control law as well as Proposition 69, which requires the collection of DNA samples from all felons. Fighting to protect our community, he joint -authored Megan's Law on the Internet, the landmark legislation requiring the release of public information related to sex offenders and as a former deputy and assistant district attorney he handled complex criminal matters while managing line prosecutors. As Third District Supervisor, he secured Orange County's first year-round, supportive housing shelter for the homeless, established an Ethics Commission, gained passage of pension reform measures and strengthened public safety oversight by expanding the Office of Independent Review.

Spitzer earned his Bachelor's degree from UCLA (1982), a Master's degree in Public Policy from UC Berkeley (1989), and a Law Degree from UC Hastings School of Law (1989). While at Hastings, Spitzer was awarded the George Moscone Fellowship, for the law student dedicating his career to public service.

Spitzer is a former high school teacher and reserve police officer assigned to DUI enforcement and patrol duties. He is a doting father of a son and daughter and a dedicated husband to Judge Jamie Spitzer, Presiding Judge of the Workers' Compensation Appeals Board.
